LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

THE ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING WAS HELD DURING THE FORENOON.

ALL OF OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

A Balance of $450 at End of the Year, Together With $1,050 On Interest—Committee to Arrange a Picnic.

The Ladies' Musical club held its annual business meeting at the Elks' club rooms this morning, with an excellent attendance.

Mrs. W. D. Steele, who is the life president, made a little talk to the club, reviewing the work of the year, which she pronounced the most delightful in the existence of the club.

The annual election of officers was held, and all of the old officers were re-elected by acclamation, viz:

Mrs. E. F. Yancey—Vice president.
Mrs. Nannie G. Estill—Treasurer.
Miss Jessie Blair—Secretary.
Miss Lucille Hill—Librarian.
Miss Jessie Smith—Accompanist.
Miss Sara Payne—Assistant accompanist.

The office of second vice president was created, and Mrs. Charles Bard was elected to fill it.

Mrs. Steele appointed as the executive committee for the following year Mrs. Oscar H. Ott, Mrs. J. H. Rodes, and Mrs. John T. Baxter.

The reports of the various officers were presented and approved.

Mrs. Ott, chairman of the executive committee, made a report on the financial results of the recent concert.

Mrs. Estill's report showed that, including the concert money, the club at the end of its year's work will have on hand almost $450, aside from its $1,050 interest-bearing note.

The annual picnic was discussed and the following committee appointed: Mrs. W. F. Keyser, Miss Gertrude Brandt, Mrs. E. E. Codding and Mrs. C. C. Evans.

It was decided to have a picture taken of the chorus, and Mrs. Ott, Miss Campbell, Miss Camp and Mrs. Harris were named as the committee to arrange for the same.

A committee on resolutions, consisting of Miss Blair, Mrs. Bard and Mrs. Estill was appointed.

The meeting adjourned, the members declaring this to have been the most satisfactory and profitable year of the club's work.

POSSIBLY FATALLY HURT

Mrs. Fred Long Was Injured in Runaway Accident.

Mrs. Fred Long, wife of a farmer near Longwood, was possibly fatally injured in a runaway accident on North Summit street at 10 o'clock this morning, and late this afternoon she was lying in an unconscious condition at the home of a friend with the outcome of her case gravely considered by her attending physician, Dr. H. B. Cole.

In company with another lady and a gentleman, Mrs. Long was riding in a two-seated vehicle, pulled by a team of horses. In the vicinity of Boonville and Engineer avenue the team took fright and started to run away.

Mrs. Long jumped from the vehicle and was rendered unconscious and sustained dangerous wounds. She was taken to the home of Mr. Taylor, on Summit street, and Dr. H. B. Cole was summoned. He pronounced her injuries dangerous, to say the least.

The team was stopped before either of the other occupants was injured.

IS BRYAN'S FRIEND

Governor Johnson Says He Isn't Trying to Defeat the Nebraskan.

Detroit, April 29.—Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, in an interview given here today vehemently denied that his candidacy for the presidential nomination has any connection with Wall street or Tammany. He said he is Bryan's friend and is not in the race to defeat Bryan. The tariff, he thought, will be the real issue of the campaign. He will be a guest at a banquet here tonight.

Dr. Peak Here to Attend Meeting.

Dr. O. L. Peak, of Springfield, Mo., was here today to represent Springfield.

He had been an inmate of the institution over a week. A wife and two children in the old country survive.

The body is lying in state at McLaughlin's Undertaking company rooms and burial will likely be made in the potter's field.

DEATH FOLLOWS LOSSES

NEW YORK SOCIETY MAN KILLS HIMSELF AFTER DISASTROUS SPECULATIONS.

COOLY ARRANGED DEATH'S DETAILS

Called Physician Over Phone, Then Shot Himself Through the Head—Was Supposed to Be a Millionaire.

New York, April 29.—Following the suicide last night of Charles Coster, a prominent broker and millionaire society man, of this city, the stock exchange firm of Coster, Knapp & Co., of which the dead man was a member, announced its suspension today on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. The firm is prominent and had an extensive business.

Coster had lost heavily in speculation lately and prepared for his voluntary death with neat coolness. While Mrs. Coster was at a reception, he telephoned the family physician that Mrs. Coster had a severe cold, and asked him to come to the house at once, and soon afterward sent a bullet through his brain. When the physician arrived he found him dead.

Mr. Whitney is well known in railroad circles and his appointment is very gratifying to his friends. He is considered one of the best informed men in the city on railroad matters.

KILLED SIX SEAMEN

German Sailors Experimenting With Submarine Mine Are Blown Up.

Kiel, April 29.—Two seamen of the German battleship Elsass were killed and six others wounded here today, as the result of an explosion of a submarine mine. A launch from the battleship was experimenting in blowing up obstructions in the water and during the maneuvers one of the mines exploded prematurely.

SEER DROVE HIM INSANE

DEATH MAY RESULT TO WISCONSIN DANE FROM TRULY WIERD PROPHECY.

THE END EXPECTED IN FEW HOURS

A Fortune Told in the Old Country May Result in the Death of Nels Christensen Before Day Ends.

Kenosha, Wis., April 29.—Nels Christensen, a well educated Dane 26 years old, is in jail here, waiting for his death, which he believes will occur some time today. He has said it is his last farewell to his friends.

Christensen came to Kenosha from Copenhagen last June. Before he left his native country a Danish fortune teller told him he would be arrested on April 27 and that he would die two days later.

He also told him he would find in the jail a one-legged man, a Dane and a cross-eyed man. He was picked up in a Kenosha street talking incoherently.

Awaiting him at the door of the jail was Harry Hanson, a Dane; Charles Hanson, who has only one leg, and Ole Hertzberger, who is cross-eyed. When Christensen saw the three he threw up his hands and cried:

"It's no use."

Then he fell in a faint on the floor. Since that time he has been preparing for death.

Physicians attending him say his condition is such that he may not survive.

LOCKED IN A VAULT

The Broker Was By a Robber and Almost Suffocated.

Chicago, April 29.—Held up in his private office, locked in a vault and robbed of $100, directly across the street from the office of Chief of Police Shippey and Mayor Busse, and within 50 feet of the detective bureau, William G. Garrett, a LaSalle street broker, with offices in the Oxford building, was rescued from death by suffocation last afternoon.

A daring hold-up man, entering the office while Garrett's employees were at lunch, forced the broker into a vault and then locked the iron door upon him.

After locking Mr. Garrett in the vault the lone hold-up man ransacked drawers, breaking into closets, desks and finally finding a strong box in the broker's private desk, ran off with it and $100.

Mr. Garrett was almost suffocated when William H. Jackson, janitor of the building, entered the office and with the help of a locksmith released Garrett.

WAS MERELY A PIMPLE

But It Killed the Noted Bacteriologist, a Martyr to Science.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 29.—Dr. James Curtis Ralston, a bacteriologist, died at his home in this city yesterday, a victim of his devotion to his profession and love of research.

Three times within six months Dr. Ralston has suffered an infection as a result of laboratory experiments, but finally succumbed to the last. The case that ended in his death was caused by a small pimple that appeared on the left hand early in April.

Soon it began to swell and all that science could do was resorted to to save the arm. Finally it was necessary to operate in the hope of saving his life, but all efforts were futile.

WALKED AROUND NAKED

Patients on the Roof of a Sanitarium in Chicago.

Chicago, April 29.—Dr. H. E. Lane, head of the Kosmos Hygienic Institute, at 765 North Clark street, was arrested yesterday because men and women patients parade the roof of the sanitarium clad only in pure air.

Arthur R. Rockett, 767 North Clark street, is the complainant. He declares he feared to have guests because, should they glance at the sky line above the hospital, they were liable to see a man, or perchance a woman, outlined against the sky dressed even as a small boy who gambols about and plunges recklessly in the swimming hole in the summer time.

Others whose dress was almost equally as scarce paraded about the yard, and Rockett asserted he had lapsed into a state of constant nervousness for fear that what transparent garments hung loosely from shoulders might, in a moment of carelessness, be allowed to fall to the ground. He concluded that he could stand it no longer and appealed to the police.

MR. KNOX IS ENDORSED

Will Entertain the Ladies. Sedalia council No. 831, Knights of Columbus, will give an entertainment for ladies at the lodge hall on the night of May 14. Lecturer Pat Shea has the affair in hand. Ice cream, strawberries and cake will be served.

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICAN CONVENTION INSTRUCTS FOR HER FAVORITE SON.

RESOLUTIONS DEMAND NOMINATION

Platform Praises Roosevelt and His Administration and Favors Tariff Revision, But Only by Republicans.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—The republican state convention met here today to name the delegates at large to the national convention, and not in years has there been such a quiet state political gathering.

State Senator Joseph A. Langfitt, of Pittsburg, was chosen temporary chairman, and the convention burst into cheers when he, in a brief speech, mentioned the name of Philander C. Knox as the favorite son of Pennsylvania in the presidential race.

The platform, after indorsing President Roosevelt and his administration in glowing terms, and declaring especially for a revision of the tariff, but only by republicans, says:

"Pennsylvania having not only continuously and consistently contributed to the greatness of the republic and the republican party, we believe she is pre-eminently qualified by tradition and purpose to name the next president of the United States. We therefore instruct our delegates to work and vote for Philander Chase Knox as long as he shall consent to stand for the cause of Pennsylvania and until he becomes the chosen candidate of the national convention."

The following were selected as delegates at large: James Elverson, Philadelphia; Charles A. Rook, Pittsburg; Governor Edwin S. Stuart and Robert P. Hagwood, of Bradford. The delegates applauded that part of the platform indorsing Roosevelt vigorously.

GUESTS AT A LUNCHEON

It Was Given at the Huckins by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lawrence.

The officers of the executive committee of the Civic Improvement league of Sedalia and a few invited guests were entertained in a delightful luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lawrence at the parlors of the Huckins hotel at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Roses furnished the decoration.

The affair was merely a social gathering, the outside guests being Mayor J. L. Babcock, ex-Mayor John A. Collins, Dr. H. B. Cole, Prof. G. V. Buchanan, W. H. Barnett, W. H. Ramsey, E. W. Shultz and J. W. Mellor.

The guests, constituting the executive committees of the four ladies' clubs of the Civic Improvement league followed:

Sorosis—Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. C. E. Calne, Mrs. D. H. Smith, D. A. R.—Mrs. E. A. Wood, Mrs. D. T. Abell, Mrs. O. M. Barnett, U. D. C.—Mrs. C. C. Lawson, Mrs. J. A. Collins, Mrs. H. W. Harris, Chautauqua—Mrs. Peter Hoffman, Mrs. H. E. Carpenter, Mrs. T. H. Johnson.

The officers of the league are as follows:

W. H. Ramsey—President.
E. W. Shultz—Vice president.
Mrs. Charles Evans—Second vice president.

Mrs. A. J. Tucker—Third vice president.

J. W. Mellor—Secretary.

Mrs. H. B. Cole—Treasurer.

Mrs. W. J. Letts—Assistant treasurer.

OPERA IN COREY'S HOME

WIFE OF THE STEEL MAGNATE WILL SING WITH JEAN DE RESZKE.

MABELLE IS HAPPY IN NEW STUDY

Before Sailing for Paris the Former Actress Tells What She Will Do for Unfortunate American Composers.

New York, April 29.—Mrs. W. E. Corey, formerly Mabelle Gilman, will build a private theater in this city to produce operas by American composers who have no means of procuring a hearing for their work.

Mrs. Corey made this statement yesterday before she sailed on the steamship Deutschland with her husband for Paris. In Paris she will study for the operatic stage.

"I am happy in the thought of resuming my studies with Jean de Reszke," said Mrs. Corey. "I expect to be at work within a few days after our arrival. No time will be wasted on details. I have several roles entirely learned—every word, every measure perfect. With De Reszke I expect to appear in grand opera this season."

Mrs. Corey has told her intention to have a theater in her own home, as she has in her chateau near Paris. Mrs. Corey said she would engage the best singers available for each production and would appear herself.

She plans to give three performances of each opera, the first a dress rehearsal for the inner circle of her friends, the second for critics, managers and musicians, and the third to create a fund to develop the talent of those who do not have the means to pursue their studies properly.

Speaking of her study and contemplated appearance with De Reszke, Mrs. Corey said:

"I hope to sing with him either in 'Aida' or 'Carmen.' The dramatic conception and interpretation probably will be my own, as Mr. De Reszke has always been most complimentary about this side of my work, and frequently asked me to pose or gesture for the class. He certainly does not take the individuality out of his pupils, and for this I am very thankful, as that is one phase I love."

FOR LOSS OF LEG, $32,500

Woman Teacher Was Given a Verdict for That Sum.

White Plains, N. Y., April 29.—A verdict for $32,500 damages against the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, and in favor of Miss Annie Mahoney, one of the passengers injured in a wreck of the Brewster Express in February of last year, was returned by a jury in the supreme court here yesterday.

Miss Mahoney sued for $100,000. One of her legs was amputated as a result of the injuries she sustained in the wreck. At the time she met her injuries she was a school teacher and the sole support of her mother.

Counsel for the railroad moved that the verdict be set aside as contrary to the weight of evidence. Decision on the motion was reserved.

WITH THE DOOR NAILED SHUT

Six Italians Who Feared Thieves Are Asphyxiated.

New York, April 29.—The bodies of six unknown Italians, supposed to be miners from Midvale, Pa., were found in a room on the third floor of a Greenwich street house late yesterday.

The gas in the room was turned on, and the coroner stated that the men had been dead several hours.

After the Italians had closed the door for the night they had nailed it shut from the inside and had fastened the window tight, evidently in fear of thieves.

A FORTUNE OF $500,000

Possessed By a Fair Rider in a Wild West Show.

Chicago, April 29.—Miss Ruth Stokes, a beautiful young girl worth half a million dollars, is traveling with a wild west show, and cowboys, Mexicans, Cossacks and ranchmen are jealously striving for her smiles. Miss Stokes owns a valuable ranch and 20 oil wells near Sapulpa, Okla. Her income is $100 a day.

Asked why she preferred the wild show life to the drawing room, the young equestrienne replied in her breezy western way:

"I just got tired of civilization. I was educated in music, art and other things till I rebelled. I knew a lot of the girls riding with the show and the proprietor said he would look after me. I would rather ride a horse than dance a cotillon or attend the opera. This is real life. Lordy, what will my eastern friends say if they ever hear of this?"

Miss Stokes is a brunette, 5 feet 9 inches in height, strong and graceful as a fawn, and decidedly pretty. She was educated in New York.

MR. HAMLIN HUMOROUS

HE READS NOTICE OF THE SALE OF THE "G. O. P." ON NOVEMBER 4, NEXT.

BIG ELEPHANT AND ALL ARE TO GO

This Includes the "Big Stick" We Have Heard So Much About—Wants the Tariff on Wood Pulp Removed.

Washington, April 29.—Representative Courtney W. Hamlin, of Missouri, added life to the proceedings in the house yesterday by reading a notice of a public sale which appeared in a paper published in his congressional district.

The sale, according to the notice, is to take place at the capitol in Washington, beginning November 4, next, and it indicates to Mr. Hamlin that the republicans are preparing to vacate Washington for the democrats.

The sale is to be by auction, and the bargains include one elephant, branded on the side "G. O. P.," about 45 years old; one financial panic, old enough to be weaned, sired by Wall street and damned by everybody; one big stick, slightly impaired by overwork, and 5,000,000 Teddy bears. Roast crow will be served free on the grounds by the Young Republican club.

Mr. Hamlin read the notice in a speech in which he discussed the proposition to remove the tariff on wood pulp and print paper. He asserted that 90 per cent of the republicans, if compelled to vote, would vote to remove the duty.

Ervine, of Slater, and Harry Nofsker, of Sedalia, were appointed a committee on resolutions, after which the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Chairman Gold called the afternoon session to order, at which time Dr. Peak, of Springfield, and L. F. Delegates from the following places were present at the convention: Slater, Odessa, Lexington, Marshall, Springfield, New Franklin and Sedalia.

WAS SLAIN IN A FRENZY

PENNSYLVANIA FANATIC MURDERS HIS NIECE IN COLD BLOOD.

TAKEN IN CUSTODY ON TUESDAY

"God Killed the Child," Said Wife of the Slayer After the Crime—First He Smashed the Furniture.

Allentown, Pa., April 29.—The report of a murder by a religious fanatic in the borough of Alliance, near here, reached this city yesterday. The little daughter of Henry Smith, a councilman, was killed by Smith's brother-in-law, Robert Bachman, of Nazareth, Pa., while on a visit at the Bachman home. At the time of the killing Bachman was in a frenzy. He drove everybody except the little girl out of the house.

Bachman was the head of a new praying band and last week he interested the Smiths. They went to Bachman's house last Saturday, prayed and held services and then decided to remain until the spirit told them to leave.

Late Monday night under Bachman's direction, Smith, in fighting the devil, broke three doors, kicked in the footboard of a bed and jumped on the bed, smashing it.

Meanwhile Bachman was in an adjoining room with the Smiths' only child, May Irene, who would have been 5 years old today. When Mrs. Smith entered that room she found her daughter dead on the floor and Bachman on his knees. The mother picked up the body of her child and ran from the house. Later the father and mother took the body to their home, eight miles distant.

Last afternoon Bachman was arrested. His wife told the coroner that God had killed the child and that her husband was a God.

Missouri Bar Association Would Amend Constitution.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 29.—Members of the Missouri Bar association will push the pending constitutional amendment to increase the number of supreme court judges from seven to nine and to increase their salaries from $4,500 to $5,500.

R. T. Bailey, of Harrisonville, president of the Bar association, has announced the appointment of J. M. Atkinson, Doniphan; Sanford B. Ladd, Kansas City; W. M. Williams, Boonville; D. W. Hill, Poplar Bluff; O. M. Spencer, St. Joseph; J. H. Bothwell, Sedalia; Seldon P. Spencer, St. Louis; Edwin Silver; Jefferson City; John W. Hillburton, Carthage, and James T. Neville, Springfield, as a committee to draft an address to the people, calling attention to the changed conditions in Missouri.

"WET" MAYOR STEPS DOWN

Resignation Recently Presented Took Effect Today.

Mattoon, Ill., April 29.—Because Mattoon was voted "dry" in the recent local option election, Mayor Lewis Lehman recently resigned and today retired from office.

The retiring mayor is a bank president. He is a believer in temperance, but declares that he cannot consistently continue to head the city government, because of the alleged fact that the loss of the $19,000 yearly revenue from the nineteen ousted saloons will so cripple the municipal finances as to render the city bankrupt.

ARE NOT FOR BRYAN

Delegates to Connecticut Convention Refuse to Endorse Nebraskan.

New Haven, Conn., April 29.—The committee on resolutions of the democratic state convention today refused to adopt a platform that would place the convention on record in favor of Bryan, and also refused to accept a resolution expressing continued confidence in Bryan's leadership.

Mrs. Hays Is No Better.

There is no change today in the condition of Mrs. Tom Hays, who is critically ill at her home.

REVISING THE TARIFF.

The republicans, if they control the next congress, will not need the advice and assistance of a tariff commission; for all they need to do is to call in the experts and attorneys of the trusts. That is what they did in 1897, when the present tariff law was fixed up. What is the use of devising the taxpayers, as Congressman Payne does, by declaring that tariffs have always been made without anything like adequate information. Mr. Payne and the other members of the ways and means committee were fully advised when they were considering the Dingley tariff law, that high rates demanded by Mr. Carnegie and the steel trust people would breed monopoly. When they allowed the Standard Oil trust attorney to write the proviso to the oil schedule, they knew they were protecting the trust and adding at least 50 per cent to the price of kerosene to the American people, and to the poorest people of that.

When they accepted the beef trust schedule on hides they pretended to be protecting the American farmer,
but they knew they were helping the leather and beef trusts. When they accepted the wool schedule of the Wool Growers' association they knew they were adding at least 75 per cent to the cost of woolen goods to the people of the northern states, who necessarily have to buy them, and instead of helping the farmers it was the flock masters of the great western plains that were most benefited. When they wrote this tariff that protects the paper trust they must have known that the newspaper publishers would have to pay the tariff duty in increased proportion to the trust. Not a sensible law was carefully considered and all with the same intent and purpose of adding to the burdens of the people for the benefit of the trusts.

The trusts were well acquainted with the facts and in return have been most liberal contributors to the campaign funds of not only the republican national committee, but also to the committee which manages the election of congressmen. Millions have been paid by the trusts

and protected monopolies to secure the election of presidents and congressmen, both of the senate and the house, who are "sound on the tariff."

And now the same old show is to be played again with a different title and the excuse that there must be added maximum schedule rates
to protect us from the pauper labor of Europe, whose working men are now in better condition than our own workmen are because the cost of living is less.

The English workingman has lower wages, but the world to draw upon for his necessities, for every country, including the United States, sells him its surplus products in competition with each other, with no tariff duties to speak of to add to the price. Here everything imported that is manufactured is taxed, and the trust profits by adding the tariff rate to their own natural profits, the only difference being that the government collects the tariff tax on the goods imported and the trust collects
the tariff tax on the goods produced
here, while the tariff protects them
from foreign competition.

It is now proposed to promise the people to revise the tariff "after election," but whether the tariff is to be revised higher or lower is left to the imagination of the voter. As the republican leaders now declare
they must enact a maximum tariff
as well as a minimum tariff, it is evident that some of the trusts want still higher rates and no doubt they will be accommodated by their friends, the republican politicians.

THE SOCIAL SWIM.

Precedent with its thousand graduations is more discussed in Washington than in Vienna or Madrid,
and in the capital of democracy,
where such things are ostensibly decried, snobbishness and struggle for social place are marked by the abandonment of all ideas of democracy
and even decency.

Senators and representatives laugh
at our "Vanity Fair," says the Boston Traveler, but the question of social precedence seems a serious one to their wives, many of whom are obsessed with the idea that as each one climbs the social ladder it is her imperative duty to put obstacles
in the path of the one just below.
The game is cruel and heartless. It has nothing in it of morals or the brotherhood of man.

The new and strange standards of royal etiquette which have been established at Washington mean strange and unimpaired duties for army and navy officers, which are not only foolish, but abhorrent to old fashioned democratic ideas.

The democratic national convention will be able to "point with pride" to the way the democratic members of congress forced the republicans to enact all the reform legislation accomplished.

The Protective Tariff league can take comfort in the fact that republican prosperity has so dwindled under the tariff concessions to Germany that imports from that country have fallen off 40 per cent.

The democrats in congress cannot pass reform legislation without republican votes, but they are plainly showing the country the hypocrisy of the republicans in pretending to be for reform.

The brewery employee who rolled a barrel of water a mile and a half to win the whisky, likely won't be able to repeat the performance while the whisky lasts.

The president's activity about the
"Jim Crow" law is just to conciliate
the negroes, who are somewhat off
color in their devotion to the republican party these days.

High and Low Dangers.

IN COSMOPOLITAN NEW YORK.

A Restaurant Example of the Ever
Striking Side of the City.

Of course New York is cosmopolitan
and it isn't extraordinarily new to call attention to the fact. But the way that it is borne in upon each of us always makes an appeal as something quite novel, says the New York Sun.

For instance, the day's news with the various names of persons who have done something to get them
mentioned is proof enough of cosmopolitanism. But here's another example:

A downtown restaurant whose proprietor and waiting force are French was in full blast the other evening. At a table very near the door sat an Italian city official, chatting briskly with his Sicilian friends, three in number.

Three feet away, at the next table,
sat two men who spoke Spanish.
Judged from the speech, one was of Andalusia the other of Castile.

At the table next them, separated
again by three feet, was a man reading a German comic paper. He spoke in French to the waiter.

Oh, yes, there were English-speaking persons there.

MARKED FONDNESS FOR COLOR.

Longfellow Was What in These Days
We Would Call a "Dude."

In the upper left hand corner of a letter dated Craigie House, November 30, 1841, are these words:

"If you have room in your trunk
put into it that roudy portrait of me
which you have in oils."

This reminds the reader of Longfellow's extraordinary love for various and rather bright colors in his clothes; a characteristic very noticeable during the early years of his professorship, but modified by time. His students at Harvard wrote a song about this, and were wont to chant it to a popular tune. The verses, according to Putnam's Magazine, are to be found among the Chronicles of the Hasty Pudding club, at Harvard, but this sample stanza serves to illustrate the point:

Just twice the professor, dressed out in
his best,
Yellow kids and buff gaiters, green
breeches, blue vest.

With hat on one whisker
And an air that goes with it!
Look here! the Great North American poet.

Moved Supreme Court to Smile.

The supreme court of the United States was hearing arguments a few days ago in a case involving infringement of copyright based upon the reproduction of two musical compositions on mechanically-played instruments. The argument was being made by Attorney Livingston Gifford of New York. The titles of the two compositions were "Molly Cottontail" and "My Kentucky Babe."

Mr. Gifford was proceeding in the monotone usual to a supreme court argument.

"I'll take up 'Molly Cottontail' first," he said.

Chief Justice Fuller interrupted to ask:

"Don't you think that is a discrimination against Mr. Justice Harlan,
who is from Kentucky?"

The court seldom smiles, but it joined in the ripple that passed over the room.

If the threads in the rubber connection of a fountain pen are worn a little the joint will leak enough to soil the fingers. Dry the threads with a blotter and cover them with melted paraffin. Gladstone's Thrift.
Gladstone's liberality was very great, and was curiously accompanied by his love of small economies—his determination to have the proper discount taken off the price of his second-hand books, his horror of a wasted half sheet of note paper, which almost equaled his detestation of a wasted minute.—Recollections of Sir Algernon West.

HEARD NAME BEFORE, EH?

REFERENCE IS HAD TO MR. TAFT, OF OHIO, WHO IS SECRETARY OF WAR.

HE IS QUITE NUMEROUS JUST NOW

Possibly Will Be Nominated at Chicago, but Wait Until Organized Labor Gets Whack at Him Next November.

Baltimore, Md., April 29.—Open warfare has broken out in the Maryland republican camps, on the eve of the state convention, which will be held in Baltimore tomorrow. The indorsement of Taft is the issue over which the party leaders are quarreling, and the efforts for and against such action will likely lead to the hottest battle ever known in a Maryland political convention. Congressman Sydney E. Mudd is the leader of the anti-Taft men and was responsible for the introduction and passage by the state central committee of a resolution favoring an uninstructed delegation to Chicago.

The resolution declared that the committee believed that the republicans of Maryland now, as at the time of the last state convention, indorse the policies of President Roosevelt and demand as his successor "one who can be trusted to persevere in those policies."

Representative Mudd is known to favor the nomination of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon for president. Cannon men say that Mudd will control twelve of the sixteen Maryland delegates, and that they will probably vote for Cannon in the national convention, although it is Mudd's object to get an uninstructed delegation. There is also considerable sentiment among Maryland republicans for Governor Hughes.

Make Fight for Taft.

Portland, Me., April 29.—Supporters of Secretary Taft are making a strong fight in Maine to secure the selection of national convention delegates favorable to the nomination of the Ohio man, and with fair chances of success. The instruction question has not assumed such proportions in Maine as in other New England states and it would not come as a surprise if the state convention, to be held here tomorrow, should come out openly for Taft.

The Third and Fourth district conventions are being held today, at Waterville and Bangor, respectively, and are expected to elect Taft delegates. The convention of the First district will be held here tomorrow, in connection with the state gathering. The Second district convention, which will be called upon to nominate a successor to Congressman Littlefield, will not be held until May 12.

Many delegates are already in the city for tomorrow's convention, which will open early in the afternoon, at the armory. The Taft boomers are not alone in the attempt to influence the convention, as Hughes, Cannon, Fairbanks and Knox all have representatives here.

Secretary Taft in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., April 29.—Every indication at the opening of the Mississippi state republican convention here today points to the selection of a delegation to Chicago that will support the presidential candidacy of William H. Taft. While the delegates will probably be uninstructed, it will be composed of men friendly to President Roosevelt and his policies.

The Foraker movement has failed to meet with the support expected by its advocates, and one very singular feature of its failure is the fact that the moral support given by democrats to the white wing of the republican party has prevented many negroes who ordinarily take an active part in republican affairs from joining the Foraker insurrection.

It is expected that the white republican leaders will allow the Foraker faction two or three delegates, but they will be rendered harmless by the adoption of the unit rule.

Alabama's Factional Convention.

Birmingham, Ala., April 29.—A convention of the anti-administration republicans of Alabama was opened here today, under the leadership of J. W. Davidson, and will elect a delegation to Chicago to contest for seats with the Taft and Fairbanks factions. A mass convention of the independence party of Alabama, a branch of William Randolph Hearst's political organization will meet here tomorrow.

Convention in Vermont.

Burlington Vt., April 29.—Four delegates at large, who will probably vote for Taft in the republican national convention, will be elected by

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous dysentery), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections it is often successful in effecting a cure.

"The Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak women, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulae of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines. The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

A NEGRO WAS INSULTING

And Was Thrown From a Platform in South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., April 29.—Captain John G. Capers, United States collector of internal revenue, and national committeeman from South Carolina, hurled a threatening negro from a platform in the state republican convention hall here last afternoon. The negro landed on his head and was not hurt.

Just before the convention was called to order for the afternoon session, E. B. Thompson, a negro, took charge of the chair, and was presiding over a recess meeting, at which various delegates were speaking.

Capt. Capers stepped upon the platform and was introduced by Mr. Thompson as "a good democrat." After this the two men faced each other, and Thompson brandishes a large hickory stick which he was using as a gavel, in the face of Capers.

Seeing that the negro was bent on a row, Capt. Capers hurled him from the platform, the negro falling upon his head. By this time the hall had filled up with delegates and visitors, and there was a rush for the platform, as if to do Capers harm. Friends of Capers came to his assistance.

For ten or fifteen minutes pandemonium reigned. Chairman Deas finally restored a semblance of order and the convention proceeded to do business.

JURY HANGS; DISMISSED

SIX FOR CONVICTION AND SIX
OPPOSING—FOREMAN ABAN-DONS HOPE OF VERDICT.

DELIBERATED FOR THREE HOURS

On Request of the Prosecutor, Mr.
Sager, Case Goes Over Until May 11, Despite Protest—Both Sides Reticent.

St. Louis, Mo., April 29.—After being out hardly three hours yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Fied W. Priesmeyer, who had been on trial in Judge Muench's court two days on a charge of bribery in connection with the passage of the Ascher garage bill last October, reported through its foreman, R. A.
Duncan, that it stood six for conviction and six for acquittal and that there was no chance of reaching a verdict.

The jury was dismissed by Judge Muench at 6:45 o'clock. The case was continued until May 11, at the suggestion of Circuit Attorney Sager,
and over the vigorous protest of Judge
Moore, leading counsel for Priesmeyer. The dismissal of the jury after so brief a deliberation caused considerable comment.

The attorneys on both sides of the case refused to make any statement
in regard to the outcome.

mill for the purpose of grinding corn has now become almost extinct in this country" (England), says Chambers' Journal, "but the circular type of wind engine is obtaining an extended
use for the operation of small machines about a farm and for the provision of private water supplies. A new use has also been found for this prime mover in the form of providing power for private electric-lighting installations, and at least one successful
example of this application of wind power is in operation. The earliest attempt to use a windmill for this purpose was made by Mr. George Cadbury some 12 years ago; and although this plant was very badly proportioned,
owing to the lack of previous experience, the lighting was on one occasion kept up for six weeks without a break. Excellent results have been obtained in a later installation by means of the knowledge gained from Mr. Cadbury's experiments, and a plant erected three years later for lighting a large mansion in Yorkshire has given the utmost satisfaction to the owner. In this instance a circular wind-engine 30 feet in diameter drives
a suitable dynamo, the electric current generated being stored in a battery of accumulators until required.
The plant is looked after by a gardener, who devotes about four hours a week to this duty, the windmill being left running for many hours at a time
without any attention whatever."

The Fresh Air Treatment.

Most of us are acquainted with the person who asks obvious questions—
the sort of man who stops you in the middle of a headlong pelt and asks you if you are in a hurry—and of all the irritable individuals he is the very worst of the objectionable species.

Mr. Ellis is one of these pests, and during a walk abroad the other morning he paused in astonishment outside a friend's house. Before it stood three huge moving vans, the lawn was almost covered with articles of furniture of various sorts—pictures, wardrobes and china. And there was his old friend Hills begrimed, weary and ill-tempered, directing operations in his shirt-sleeves.

"What, Hills," exclaimed Mr. Ellis,
"are you moving?"
"Not at all—not at all," snapped Hills, with elaborate sarcasm. "I am taking my furniture out for a ride!"—

Stimulants in Vegetables.

Vegetables not only contain stimulants, but are capable of producing an intoxicating influence on those who depend on them exclusively for food, according to an investigator. He cites a case in which some young people of his acquaintance suffered from partial intoxication as the result of a purely vegetable meal.

HOPE TO AVERT LYNCHING

For the Murder of Women and Children in Indiana.

La Porte, Ind., April 29.—The removal of four charred bodies, the blackened forms of three children huddled about that of the mother, as if for protection, the arrest of Ray Lamphere, formerly employed by Mrs.
Belle Guinness, one of the victims, and the collapse of Lamphere at the jail
last night has caused excitement in LaPorte, that may at any moment
break forth in mob violence.

Mrs. Guinness lived on her farm near here, with her three children.
At 4 o'clock in the morning, Joseph Maxwell, an employee on the place, was awakened by smoke. He made every effort to rescue the family, but failed.

Late last afternoon the bodies of
Mrs. Guinness and her three children,
Myrtle, aged 11; Lucy, aged 9, and Phillip, aged 5, were removed from the ruins.

There was a rumor that the home
had been fired because of malice, and as a result, Lamphere was arrested.
Lamphere had been employed on the Guinness farm, and was infatuated with Mrs. Guinness, who was a beautiful woman. Mrs. Guinness declared that the man had annoyed her and
him declared insane, but a jury found him sane.

Officers are on the alert to prevent violence.

stated, and Mrs. Schneider will lose

for life.

BULLETS AT EXCELSIOR

Dr. C. F. Simmons and a Former Employee in Gun Fight.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., April 29.—
Dr. C. F. Simmons and Norman H.
Chamberlain, a former employee, engaged in a revolver fight on Broadway near Siloam spring at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Simmons stood behind a telephone pole and Chamberlain, behind a tree. Just how many shots were fired is not known, but none of the bullets took effect. The trouble resulted from a controversy while Chamberlain worked for Dr. Simmons. Chamberlain said he could not get along with a sister-in-law of the doctor.

While the men had each other covered Chamberlain shouted, "Come out in the open and I will. You take three paces and I will."
Dr. Simmons made no reply, but kept his aim. Afterwards he said that was no time to talk. It was time for action, he said.

STOLE FOR SICK BROTHER

In Consequence, Judge Pollock Was Lenient.

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—It was sentencing day in the United States district court yesterday. Judge Pollock, of Kansas, was on the bench. Alfred Friend, formerly a clerk in the New England National bank, had stolen out-of-town remittances by means of juggling accounts in the bank. The government prosecuted him for getting only $5, but he was supposed to have got about $2,000. After everything, to the case was told Judge Pollock undertook to examine the prisoner on his own account.

"What made you do it?" he inquired.

"This made me do it, sir," Friend replied, displaying a packet of letters and holding them out toward the bench. "Would your honor read them, please?"

Judge Pollock scanned some of them, interrupting his perusal to ask:

"And did you send the money to this sick brother of yours?"

"I have the money order receipt for it," Friend then said, at the same time producing another paper and handing it to the judge.

After reflecting a minute, the court announced that as Friend had been confined to jail for six months, had lost his employment and had not profited by his thievery, he would be let off with a fine of $500, which means only thirty days in jail.

The United States government never holds a prisoner longer than thirty days in liquidation of a fine, no matter how big it may be.

Everhart and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Leikinbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Gray, Rev. L. J. Baughman, of Sedalia, Mrs. Wm. Patterson and children, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Everhart and daughter, Miss Lillie.

Nature's Provision for Birds.

Swallows, night hawks and whippoorwills have very small, weak bills, which open very wide so that they are able by flying swiftly literally to scoop in the food without decreasing the speed of their flight, while the wedge-shaped bills of the woodpeckers enable them to drill through bark and dead wood for hidden grubs and worms.

COURT HOLDS THAT ANNISTON, MO., WAS INCORPORATED ILLEGALLY.

SUIT WAS BROUGHT BY FARMERS

Judge Bland, in a Dissenting Opinion, Says the Village Should Have Been Made a Party to the Suit.

St. Louis, Mo., April 29.—The town of Anniston, Mississippi county, Mo., was wiped off the map of the state yesterday by the decision of the St. Louis court of appeals. Judge Bland dissenting. The suit in which the decision was rendered was brought by Jesse S. White, Homer Lynn and J. L. Busby against the village trustees of Anniston. The three plaintiffs are farmers living in the vicinity of Anniston.

Anniston was incorporated March 2, 1897, a whole section of land, including 640 acres, being included by the county court within the metes and bounds of the new city. The plaintiffs in the suit allege that only forty acres of this district was built up and that the other 600 acres were field, forest and meadow, used for farms. The town of Anniston levied taxes on all the land in the section. The plaintiffs refused to pay and sued the village trustees, who had levied the taxes, declaring that they had no legal right to act and that the whole incorporation was illegal.

The court sustained the contention of the plaintiffs that only the settled portion of the section which contains Anniston should have been included and declared the entire incorporation illegal. Judge Bland dissented on the ground that the town of Anniston should have been made a party to the suit. Judge Goode declared on this point that the essence of the suit was a denial of the existence of Anniston and to have made Anniston a party would have admitted its existence.

FELL 2000 FEET; UNHURT

AERONAUT FOUGHT DESPERATELY IN MIDAIR WITH DAMAGED PARACHUTE.

WOMEN SCREAMED AT THE SIGHT

Truly Daring Balloonist, Tossed and Thrown About, Clings to Ropes and Is Saved at Fort Worth, Texas.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 29.—Clinging to a disabled parachute, which was rolling and plunging like a rudderless ship driven before a gale on the high sea, descending from the dizzy height of 2,000 feet, amid the screams of hundreds of women, and falling upon a pile of rocks without breaking a bone was the remarkable experience yesterday of Aeronaut McCormick, who is engaged by the White City to make balloon ascensions at the park during the season, when he attempted to cut the parachute loose from the balloon.

Prof. McCormick made an ascension Sunday night, but on account of the high wind was forced to make the parachute leap before the balloon had ascended very high.

He decided to make another ascension yesterday. The undertaking was successful and the balloon ascended to a height of fully 2,000 feet.

When the aeronaut attempted to cut loose to descend in the parachute a hook on the balloon tore a slit in the top of the parachute.

On its descent the escaping of the air from under the canvas caused it to roll and pitch, and the aeronaut was tossed in a violent manner.

At times he was thrown almost over the top of the parachute, and only by the greatest difficulty did he maintain his hold upon the ropes.

WAS IT AN ELOPEMENT?

Churchill, and Miss Ethel Rice, daughter of James E. Rice, also of Kansas City, Kas.

Judge Cosgrave scented an elopement and was unwilling to let sordid money matters interfere with cupid. Mr. Churchill and his bride left on the first train for Omaha.

DRUG DEADLY TO ITS USERS.

Egyptian Authorities Seek to Prevent Importation of Hashish.

Consul Edward I. Nathan of Patras, Greece, writes about the Greek preparation and exportation of hashish: "Hashish, that strange drug which has given our language its word 'assassin'—a man so frenzied by the drug that he accomplishes murder—is used by the Persians, Turks and Egyptians in a manner akin to the use of opium by the Chinese. It is the product of a plant grown in large quantities in the Peloponnese (southern Greece) in the district about Tripolizza. The plant grows to a height of about four feet and its branches are thickly covered with small leaves and studded with tiny seeds.

The entire plant, stalk and branches, is cut within a few inches of the root and laid out in the sun to dry. The branches are then rubbed to separate the seeds and these in turn are ground into a fine powder, which constitutes the drug. The drug has the power of inducing sleep and producing pleasant and fantastic dreams. Continued use of hashish renders its devotees wild and reckless and results in a complete wreck of their mental and physical constitution.

For this reason the Egyptian government has prohibited the importation of the drug and recently entered into a convention with Greece to prevent its exportation from there to Egypt, where the consumers of hashish are very numerous. The drug is practically never used in Greece.

SHOWS THE WORLD'S PROGRESS.

Labor-Saving Devices That Would Astonish Our Forefathers.

When McCormick built his first hundred reapers in 1845 he paid 4 1/2 cents for bolts. That was in the mythical age of hand labor. To-day 50 bolts are made for a cent. So with guard-fingers; McCormick paid 24 cents each when James K. Polk was in the White House. Now there is a ferocious machine, which, with the least possible assistance from one man, cuts out 1,300 guard-fingers in ten hours, at a labor cost of one cent for six. Also, while exploring one of the Chicago factories, I came upon a herd of chewing machines that were crunching out chain links at the rate of 50,000,000 a year. Near by were four smaller and more horrible automata, which were biting off pieces of wire and chewing them into linchpins at a speed of 400,000 bites a day.

"Take out your watch and time this man," said Superintendent Brooks of the McCormick plant. "See how long he is in boring five holes in that great casing."

"Exactly six minutes," I answered.

"Well, that's progress," observed Brooks. "Before we bought that machine it was a matter of four hours to bore those holes."

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

OMAHA RAILWAY EMPLOYEES ARE AGAINST RATE REDUCTIONS.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

At a mass meeting of several hundred railroad employees, representing every railroad in Nebraska, at Labor Temple in Omaha, yesterday, resolutions were adopted requesting the railroad commission to refrain from ordering further reductions of freight and passenger rates.

The resolution recites that over 20,000 employees and their families will be seriously affected by any such reduction, which will react on other business.

It also states that new improvements and extensions by railroads will be impossible and that any further reduction will in no manner benefit the general public, and names a committee to call on the members of the commission.

THE ENGINE WENT "DEAD"

Two Other Engines "Acted Up" on Missouri Pacific.

Missouri Pacific engine No. 7516, pulling train No. 22 from Kansas City to Sedalia, went dead early this morning, and engine No. 7512, in charge of Train Dispatcher B. H. Knapp, was sent west at 10:20 o'clock to bring the belated train to Sedalia, arriving in hour and thirty minutes late.

Engine No. 5510, pulling train No. 2 from Kansas City to Sedalia, puffing, teaming and blowing more than three ordinary engines should, shot past the station platform here at noon today, hitting a gait of fifteen miles an hour.

Crouched in one corner of the cab was Engineer Alcorn, while Fireman Tom West was lying on top of the ab vainly endeavoring to bring the train to a standstill.

With steam shooting through every opening, and also the top of the cab, Engineer Alcorn managed to bring the train to a stop, not, however, until he engine had reached Lamme avenue.

A broken injector pipe was the cause of the trouble, and by reason of it Engineer Alcorn was unable to reach the throttle of the engine.

A water hose was utilized to quench the flames in the firebox and a new engine was attached to the train to pull it to St. Louis.

Late yesterday engine No. 443, pulling an afternoon freight train on the Missouri Pacific, blew out a cylinder rock and had to be sent to the shops to await repairs.

MISTAKE IN THE ORDER

RESULTS IN SIX BEING KILLED AND THIRTY INJURED IN TROLLEY WRECK

ACCIDENT OCCURRED ON A CURVE

Limited Interurban Car Collides With Regular Near Ypsilanti, Mich. —Erring Motorman Crushed to Death.

Detroit, Mich., April 29.—Two large interurban trolley cars on the Detroit, Jackson and Chicago railway, a part of the Detroit United Railways system, collided head on last afternoon while running about forty-five miles an hour, twenty-five miles west of here, near Ypsilanti.

Six men were killed and about thirty men and women injured, some of them seriously. All of the severely wounded were taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor.

A mistake in orders on the part of the motorman, Isa Fay, of the limited car, who was crushed to death beneath his vestibule is alleged to have caused the collision. It is charged that he overran his orders. The dead are:

Motorman Isa Fay, Jackson.
John Paget, Detroit.
Charles Carman, Detroit.
Geo. E. Howard, Detroit.
Unidentified Italian workman.
Unidentified man bound for Detroit, thought to be a tailor.

The limited car, comfortably filled with about forty-eight people, left Ypsilanti at 2:17 o'clock for Detroit. The running time of the car was changed yesterday and reduced, so that Motorman Fay left Ypsilanti ten minutes earlier than he had been accustomed to.

This is thought by some to have been responsible for his mistake. Instead of stopping at Harris switch, two miles west of the scene of the accident, where it is said by the officials of the road the cars should have passed, the limited rushed by the crossing at high speed.

As it rounded a curve four miles east of Ypsilanti, the local car flashed into view, also running at high speed. It was a hopeless effort to try to stop the heavy cars, and they crashed together with terrific impact.

Trenton, Mo., April 29.—Yesterday was the second annual Tin Can day, promoted by the Clean City club, of Trenton.

The clean up was in memory of the Tin Can day of a year ago, when small boys, paid by the club, gathered up nearly 80,000 tin cans about the city.

WHITE GIRLS AND COONS

SAT DOWN TOGETHER AT SAME TABLES AT BANQUET IN NEW YORK.

SPEAKERS FAVOR AMALGAMATION

Society Woman Talks and Was Loudly Cheered When She Tells Members of Races to "Get Closer."

New York, April 29.—Social equality and intermarriages between the races were advocated Monday night at a banquet of the Cosmopolitan society of Greater New York, where 20 white girls and women dined side by side at tables with negro men and women.

Whether by accident or design, all of the white women save three found, when they reached the tables at Peck's restaurant, at 140 Fulton street, that the seats beside them were to be occupied by negro men. Many of the men were as black as coal.

The Rev. Madison C. Peters, who had intended to speak to the society, remained only long enough to view this startling seating arrangement. As the first course of the dinner was served he called Andre Tridon the treasurer of the society, aside, and, pleading as an excuse another speech which must be delivered uptown, hurried from the room. In spite of promises that he would return and speak, Dr. Peters failed to come back and the speech was not delivered.

Miss Mary White Ovington, a Brooklyn society girl, who has been prominent in settlement work, and whose father is proprietor of the Hotel St. George, was the only white woman who occupied a seat at the speakers' table. Negroes were clustered all about her. On her right hand sat William H. Ferris, a negro graduate of Harvard, who told later of his effort to implant his "Boston education" in the south.

At this table also sat Hamilton Holt, introduced at "Editor-in-Chief of the Independent," and whose subsequent utterances on intermarriage stirred his audience to enthusiastic applause. At the left of Miss Ovington was seated Editor Villard of the New York Evening Post, and his plea for "equality and abolition of caste spirit" a few minutes later drew forth another wild outburst.

But the one table in particular which attracted attention was that at which half a dozen women were seated, and where the young negro, army captain, H. A. Thompson, sat between two prominent white girls from Greenpoint.

These young women are Miss Isabel Eaton and Miss Marion Doolittle. They laughed and chatted with their negro entertainer during the meal, while he retold his exploits at San Juan Hill, where he served as adjutant of the Eighth Illinois colored infantry. One of his apparent interesting recitals was dramatically interrupted by a violent attack of nose-bleed, which caused his hasty departure from the table, but he was received with evident pleasure when he returned, five minutes later and renewed his attentions to the young women.

At this table were also seated Mrs. J. W. Gates and her 16-year-old daughter, Bessie. The latter is an attractive blonde girl, and was gowned in a blue creation, slightly décolleté. She wore a light straw hat trimmed with brilliant poppies. Treasurer Tridon announced that Mrs. Gates and daughter were prominent in society in Seattle and were in New York "studying art." Directly across the table from the little debutante sat Edward C. Walker, president of the Sunrise club, which organization was among the first to rush to the defense of "affinity" Earls, and which later attracted attention by preaching of polygamy. The "social equality" of the affair acted like new wine upon the diners, two-thirds of whom were negroes. The free license of the speeches was received with loud outbursts. Cheers greeted the names of Roosevelt, Taft and Bryan, and wild applause followed every mention of socialism. But the greatest demonstration was drawn out by direct or indirect allusions to intermarriage, whether through the gentle discussion of "social equality" as spoken by Miss Ovington, or the broad, bald advocacy of the direct intermarriage. Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, struck the keynote of the feelings of the negroes when he said: "Intermarriage, if continued long enough, would solve the race problem. I do not believe that the white man would be so anxious to marry the negro woman as would the negro man to wed the white girl, but this would continue, the negro man marrying the white woman, until the dark race would gradually bleach."

Miss Ovington did not touch upon race equality as bluntly as Mr. Holt had done. Still she grew enthusiastic when she got to speaking, and said:

"Move your chairs nearer together and get up closer." That invitation was generally accepted by the colored dinner partners of the white girls, and a great noise of chair crowding continued for some minutes.

About this time Dr. Ferris, the colored collegian, was called upon. He was delighted to speak and said: "Is it too soon to admit the negro into the brotherhood of equality in the human family? This meeting means more to the negro of the black belt of the south than to the negro of the north. It marks an epoch for the down south negro. It is a question of recognizing him as a man and as an equal. There is only one way to succeed—demand your equality."

"We have two leaders, Booker Washington advocating peaceful resistance, and then there is Dubois saying, 'Exercise your rights.' Now, which shall it be?"

"Exercise our rights!" shouted a voice, followed by great applause, which was joined in by white and black alike.

BAKING BREAD

Our demonstration of the "Universal" Bread Maker began today. About 100 little souvenir loaves of bread were baked and every lady caller was delighted. Come and get one of the little sample loaves and a book of recipes and see how easily the "Universal" works.

Remember that the regular family size only costs $2.00 which will be saved in flour alone in a short time.

Saves Time

Just think what it means to knead your bread more thoroughly than ever in three short minutes. See the demonstration and get a loaf that was kneaded in three minutes and be convinced.

Saves Flour

Not a spoonful of flour need be added after you have used the "Universal" a time or two. You don't need a bread board either, so that you don't have to waste any flour on that. The dough does not stick to the sides of the pail.

Strong—Durable

The "Universal" Bread Maker is made of such strong and never-wear-outable material that it will last a life time. Every part is covered with a heavy coating of pure tin, so that rust need not be feared.

Gentleman Who Is Well and Favorably Known in Sedalia.

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—Edward T. Orear will retire as president of the Gate City bank May 1. He will be succeeded by Addison M. Clark, to whom Mr. Orear has sold part of his stock. Mr. Orear will continue as a director. Mr. Clark is an early resident of Kansas City. He has large real estate holdings here and has a real estate and loan office in the R. A. Long building.

"We organized the bank in 1906," Mr. Orear said, "at its present location, Twelfth and McGee streets. The business has grown steadily until we now have $600,000 in deposits. I am retiring as an active officer because I feel the need of more outdoor life. I will spend the summer at my farm at Sweet Springs, Mo., and devote my time to looking after my various business interests. I will make my headquarters at the bank."

PHI DELTA PHI FRATERNITY

The National Convention Being Held at Iowa City.

Iowa City, Ia., April 29.—College men from many states, including some of the legal lights of the country, are the guests of the students and faculty of the state university of Iowa today at the national convention of the Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

This fraternity has chapters in law schools throughout the country. The Delta Sigma Rho, a new fraternity, will hold a general meeting here on Friday.

BACK TO CONGRESS AGAIN

Hon. Llewellyn Powers, of Maine, Renominated Today.

Bangor, Me., April 29.—Hon. Llewellyn Powers was renominated by acclamation at the congressional convention of the Fourth Maine district, held in the city hall here today.

Frank George, a coal operator at Higginsville, who this month was elected a member of the council there for the eighth consecutive year, is figuring on putting in a first-class bowling alley in Sedalia, provided he can secure a suitable location. Mr. George is a model citizen in every respect and Sedalia would be glad to welcome him and his family. He went to Boonville last night after a day's visit here.

Prohibition in Platform.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 29.—The republican state convention yesterday instructed the Arkansas delegates to the Chicago convention to vote for Secretary Taft, and declared in favor of prohibition. Gen. Powell Clayton heads the delegation to Chicago.

CANNON CLAIMS TARHEELS

But Your "Uncle Joe" May Have Another Guess Coming.

Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—That delegates favorable to Speaker Cannon will be selected at the republican conventions of the Fifth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth districts, which are being held today, and that the delegates at large chosen by the state republican convention will also rally to the support of the Illinois man, is the claim of the Cannon boomers here.

North Carolina is "Uncle Joe's" native state, and the Taft leaders admit that at least a portion of the delegates may vote for Cannon on the first ballot, but that they will swing to Taft.

Keep the Kitchen Cool

Why swelter over a glowing range in a stuffy kitchen, when a new Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove will do the family cooking without raising the temperature enough to be noticeable?

By putting a "New Perfection" in and allowing the range fire to go out, you may make this summer's kitchen work not only bearable, but actually a pleasure. The produces an intense heat under the kettle or in the oven, but does not radiate heat in all directions as a coal range does—hence is used with comfort on the hottest summer day. Made in three sizes, and warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

LATEST COMEDY DREAM

"RACE FOR THE WHITE HOUSE" IS TITLE, WITH SENATOR KNOX IN THE CAST.

ENDORSEMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA

He Was Born at Brownsville in That State and Will Celebrate 55th Birthday on Wednesday of Next Week.

Washington, April 29.—What part Philander Chase Knox will play in the latest comedy drama, "The Race for the White House," is today the subject of much comment among the solons of the national capital. That Senator Knox will receive the endorsement of the Pennsylvania state republican convention in Harrisburg today and will go to Chicago with the entire strength of the Quaker state delegation behind him is a certainty.

As to whether this will make him a strong factor is a matter regarding which there is much difference of opinion. Fellow senators there are who firmly believe that Knox has at least an equal opportunity of securing the nomination for which so many would-be candidates are now striving so vigorously.

Others look upon Knox's candidacy somewhat in the light of a joke, declaring that he has less chance of receiving the nomination than any other man prominently mentioned and that he could not possibly be elected if nominated.

Senator Philander Chase Knox is still a comparatively young man. He will celebrate his 55th birthday a week from today, having been born in Brownsville, Pa., on May 6, 1853. He has been well described as a "small, bullet-headed, round-faced man, with a long upper lip, straight jaw and heavy, square chin; dark blue eyes, by turn twinkling or cold and penetrating; a figure so short, compact and symmetrical, so faultlessly clothed, so dapper, as to seem boyish; a passionless mind absorbed in the practical business of life, with slipped domesticity, golf and trotting horses as his recreation."

"A saved-off cherub," is a still briefer description supplied by President Roosevelt. Others have referred to him as a "Napoleon of statecraft."

All agree that he is an able man.

Born in 1853, in the quiet town of Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa., which has now some 1800 inhabitants, his father, a respected rural banker, desired him to adopt his own vocation. The boy's bent, however, was to the law, and to the law he went.

He first attended the public school of the village. He humorously declines to say nowadays just how many times he "played hooky" or got sick upon "borrowed" green apples, but it is a plausible tradition of the Monongahela Valley that he frequently fished in the river with others of his age and that he sometimes even "hunted rollywogs" along Dunlop's Creek near Miller's Mills.

Later he was not sent, like many sons of well-to-do men of western Pennsylvania, to a famous eastern institution, but to the modest Mount Union college, at Alliance, O., a fact which had its effect upon the current of his life. There he was study-mate of William McKinley, whose mother was a poor widow and who had himself served as muleboy on an Ohio canal.

McKinley and Knox formed a friendship which grew into intimacy with the years, and when the former became president of the United States he induced the latter to accept a place in his cabinet. Knox was graduated at the age of 19 and was already resolved upon the career of law. It was with McKinley's urgent approval that he entered the law office of H. B. Swope, then the United States district attorney for Western Pennsylvania.

Three years later he was admitted to the bar, and with remarkable rapidity rose to distinction. His success in pleading before juries was almost unvaried. His manner was colloquial, direct and intimate. He had the faculty of making each juror feel that he alone was being addressed, thus gaining an ample sympathetic reinforcement of his arguments. While still in his 20's he became district attorney of Pittsburgh, but soon relinquished the office for private practice.

His practice in law brought him a rich competence in comparatively few years.

A month after McKinley was inaugurated as president Mr. Knox entered upon his duties of attorney general of the United States. After the assassination of the president, toward the end of the year 1901, Mr. Knox, as well as the other cabinet ministers, remained in office at Mr. Roosevelt's request, and until nearly the date of his appointment to the United States senate it was the Pennsylvania's legal judgment which steered the Roosevelt administration through some of its most intricate difficulties. At his Washington home there is a stately library on the first floor, but the senator's particular den is in the top story and is of about half the size of the other room. Its walls are lined with books, the majority of which, however, relate to legal, economic and political subjects. In winter a fine wood fire is kept burning in the wide chimney place. In this room Senator Knox holds consultation with some of the most important men in the federated republic, and there, too, he likes to chat in lighter vein with intimate friends.

Indorse Knox in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—Pennsylvania's republican state convention was called to order at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the Majestic theater. After the transaction of preliminary business, a recess was taken until this afternoon. The endorsement of United States Senator Philander C. Knox as Pennsylvania's choice for the presidential nomination is certain.

In addition to selecting four delegates and four alternates to the national convention at Chicago, the convention will nominate thirty-four presidential electors and a candidate for judge of the superior court. State Chairman Wesley A. Andrews will likely be re-elected.

GIRL'S OBSERVATION WAS KEEN.

Little Things Told Her Couple Were Happy with Each Other.

The couple sitting in the car were fat and middle-aged. The two young ladies seated on the other side of the car watched them intently.
"They are married," the passengers
overheard the girl with the white plumes on her hat say.
"What makes you think so?" asked
the girl in the chiffon veil.
"They pay no attention to each other,"
returned the girl with the plumes.
"But they are very happy together," remarked the girl in the veil, after a pause. "He is devoted to her and she is very proud of him."
"How can you see that?" asked the plumed girl.
"Didn't you notice when they exchanged seats?" said the girl with the veil. "He said: 'I think you will be more comfortable on this side, dear.'
You could see she was pleased and was proud of him. They are simply satisfied with each other, and do not find it necessary to show it continually,"
said the veiled girl.
"Oh," said the girl with the white
plumes.

LITTLE WORLD OF THEIR OWN.

Inhabitants of Ascension Island Live
in State of Socialism.

Now and then one hears of out of the way places where the conventions of life, as they are understood, do not exist. One of these is where money is useless. This is Ascension Island, in the Atlantic.

This island is the property of the British admiralty, and is governed by a captain of the royal navy. There is no private property in land; so there are no rents, taxes, etc. The flocks and herds are public property, and the meat killed is issued in rations. So are the vegetables grown on the farms.

Here, it would seem, is real socialism. When a fisherman makes a catch he brings it to the guard room, where it is issued by the sergeant major. The only private property is fowls and pigeons. Even the wild donkeys are under government control. They are listed on the books of the paymaster,
and are handed over at stock taking.

The population consists of a few bluejackets, a company of marines and some Kroos from Sierra Leone.

There a marine can do anything.
The muleteer is a marine; so are the gardeners, the shepherds, the stockmen, the grocers, the masons, the carpenters, and the plumbers. Even the island trapper, who gets rewards for the tails of rats, is a marine.—Sunday Magazine.

ARE UNABLE TO RIDE OSTRICH.

Powerful Bird Too Much for Even Most Expert Horsemen.

"I don't believe the stories told about the natives in Africa and Australia riding ostriches," said a Californian, "and I saw this pretty well tried on one occasion in my state. A cowboy, who had vanquished every pony he ever undertook to break in was induced to try an ostrich. After an hour's hard work he succeeded in mounting the bird, which at first tried to shake and roll him off, but these tactics, of course, had no effect upon the cowboy. Then, in spite of all the man could do, the ostrich succeeded in getting his head around and seizing
the rider by the calf of one leg. Finally the man, after much frantic kicking, got his leg free. He then doubled his feet under him, and the ostrich reached over his wings and got a good, fast hold on the man's back,
throwing him heavily to the ground and trampling on him. It took three of us to chase the infuriated ostrich away, and we accomplished it barely in time to save the man's life. That's why I don't believe the native Australians can ride ostriches."

Light of the Moon.

The light of the moon has been determined by the appropriate means of a selenium cell. The selenium cell, which, as is well known, discloses a varying electric resistance according to the amount of light thrown on it,
has been generally used in light telephony (and in Kurr's transmission of photographs to a distance). It is not entirely trustworthy, because of the differing color sensibility of various cells, but the values it gave of the moon's illuminating power have a distinct value and interest. As determined by this method, the light of the full moon is .21 of a standard candle-power, or rather more than one-fifth of a candlepower. The full moon gives us approximately nine times as much light as the half moon, and the gibbous disc is brighter before than after full moon. The selenium cell was sufficiently accurate and sensitive to determine the central phase of a lunar
eclipse within one minute of the predicted time.

LONDON OLYMPIC GAMES PROM-ISE TO ATTRACT LARGE ATTENDANCE.

THE COMPETITION IN RACQUETS

Lawn Tennis Comes May 6—July 13
Will See the Commencement of the Athletic Program in the Stadium.

London, April 28.—With the beginning yesterday of the competition in racquets, the London Olympic games, which promises to be the greatest athletic carnival of modern times,
were formally inaugurated.

While the racquets competition at Queen's club is a minor event, it has attracted wide attention, as the opening feature of a long program of athletics that will bring to England the greatest gladiators of all lands. The next event on the program will be the covered court lawn tennis competition, beginning May 6. Entries for this event close next Thursday.

July 13 will see the commencement of the athletic program in the stadium,
and there are twenty-five running
and kindred events.

Cycling, wrestling and swimming contests also commence on July 13,
and as regards the last they will be decided in an exceptionally fine bath.
Gymnastics are due on July 14, fencing on the 16th, and archery contests on the 17th.

The golf at Sandwich and Deal will be on June 1, 2 and 3, and polo at Hurlingham on June 15. Lawn tennis commences at Wimbledon on July 6, shooting at Bisley on July 8 (clay
bird shooting at the Uxendon school), rowing at Henley on the 28th, yacht racing at Ryde on the 27th, while there will be motor boat racing in Southampton Water on July 11.

The winter pastimes commence about October 19, Rugby and Association football hockey and croquet
being included in the Shepherd's Bush program, while the figure skating will take place on the Prince's Rink.

Altogether the great amateur efforts seem likely to be most efficiently carried out, and Lord Desborough,
the president, and the members of the British Olympic association are being congratulated on the successful accomplishment of the enormous amount of preliminary work necessary
to put forward a program in which the interests are so varied.

Even English amateurs Association
footballers have an opportunity to patch up their differences before the Olympic games commence, as their matches are not due until October.
The Amateur Football association is not officially represented on the British Olympic council.

SIMPLIFYING the SEARCH for "SOMEBODY!"

THE MERCHANT knows that every article in his store is a bargain for SOMEBODY—for somebody who lives
in his store-territory.

The real estate operator and agent know that every piece of property on their list is a
"bargain" for SOMEONE—for someone who lives here, or hereabouts.

The landlord knows that his tenantless
store, or office, or house, or apartment is exactly what SOMEBODY is looking for—somebody who MAY live actually in the neighborhood.

The householder, with a furnished room
to rent, knows that to SOMEONE in town it would appeal as the prettiest "one-room home"
possible to find.

The owner of a "used but useful" article
of value, no longer personally needed, knows that, to SOMEBODY in town the chance to buy it at a reasonable cash price would be welcome.

For all these people, advertising in this newspaper affords the only practical way to find their especial
"somebodies"—to go into the crowd and pick out, unerringly the
"right people."

A SECOND COXEY'S ARMY

OF "WEARY WILLIES" IS ABOUT
 TO MARCH UPON THE EFFETE EAST.

BIG DAY IN THE SELLING OF CORN

The Fifty-Eighth Annual Session of the American Medical Association in Chicago the First Week in June.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Chicago, April 29.—A second Coxey's army of "Weary Willies" is about to march upon the east. A call has gone out from Chicago for a mass convention of unemployed hoboes, tramps and vagrants, to be held in New York City May 1. The convention has been called by Jas. Eads How, president of the St. Louis Welfare association; John Ellis and Cora D. Harvey, Dr. Ben Reitman, Chicago's king of hobos, will attend the gathering of the clans and help to bring about a perfect organization of the always-unemployed. This pilgrimage to the eastern metropolis is the most important in the history of trampdom. It is the intention of the leaders of the convention, so it has been hinted by the Chicago delegates, to arrange new routes for the perpetual peregrinators. Plans will be worked out which will systematize and simplify the life of the professional itinerant. A new code of signs and signals will be devised and an entire new constitution adopted. It is said that a complete diagram of each town will be drafted, showing the names and location of the people who are "workable," those who have no dogs, the houses where a loaded shot gun is kept in the corner of the kitchen, and the homes where the woman of the house has a predilection for emptying kettles of hot water on the unsuspecting hobo who wants to work for a meal, but wishes to eat before working. Thirty-two delegates will go from Chicago to the convention. It is expected that 10,000 tramps will find their way to New York, where they plan to camp out in Central park.

Nearly $1,000,000 went into the pockets of middle western farmers on one day last week as the result of the largest sales of cash corn that have been made in Chicago in one day in a long time. Estimates placed the total sales at 1,250,000 bushels or over. Much of this came from Illinois, but some was brought from Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri. The interesting feature of the day's record was the fact that most of the selling was for shipment by the middle of May, lake navigation now being open. Farmers throughout the west were attracted by high prices, and there being a few days to spare they sold their surplus corn. The commission houses by "hedging" in the open pit, that is, selling on the Board of Trade for future delivery, were able to take all the offerings at the current price. Otherwise such enormous sales by the producers in one day would have broken the market and driven down the price to the farmers by possibly 5 cents or more. "It was a great object lesson in the efficiency of modern methods of commerce," commented one broker, who has spent the better part of his life on the Board of Trade. "Few people stop to realize what an enormous part of our business progress during the past fifty years is due to the stability given trade by the simple devices of discount, insurance and selling for future delivery. In the old days, not so long ago, either business was comparatively helpless before the unforeseen accidents and the irrational fluctuations of supply and demand." The corn that was sold brought Illinois farmers 60 cents a bushel at loading stations and was sold at 62 to 63 cents to Chicago dealers in the pit.

Hurry calls for the "family physician" are likely to meet with a tardy response during the first week in June, for during that week more surgeons, specialists and general practitioners than have ever before assembled in one place will meet in Chicago to discuss the latest developments in the healing art. The occasion is the fifty-eighth annual session of the American Medical association, the national organization of the medical profession. The doctors will come armed with all the complex paraphernalia of modern science. Among the unique features of the meeting will be an exhibition of some millions of germs of various diseases, arrested in their death dealing career and safely embalmed in bottles of a glycerine solution. A gold medal is to be awarded for the best tuberculosis exhibit, and other contests are being arranged, calculated to stimulate interest in the freaks of the microscope world. While abstruse and technical scientific pathology will occupy a large share of the time and attention of the medicos during the sessions, many of the exhibits and discussions will be of vital benefit to the general public who are interested in the promotion of health. The American Medical association numbers about 30,000 members, and includes a number of state organizations with a total membership of 70,000. The headquarters and exhibition hall of the convention will be the First regiment armory. The scientific sections will hold meetings in nearby halls and churches.

Interesting facts regarding the debts of big cities and their consequences have come to light as a result of the formal investigation into the matter of getting more money for needed improvements, which is now being conducted by the mayors of Chicago and other Illinois municipalities. The investigation shows that Chicago has the least indebtedness of any city approaching it in size. Boston is one of the most heavily bonded communities, that city having a debt of $57,000,000, or $94 a head. Philadelphia's debt is $40 per capita and Cleveland's only $34. To the New York is reserved the doubtful honor of heading the list in the matter of liabilities. Its enormous debt of $600,000,000 represents a liability of nearly $150 per capita. In comparison with this, Chicago's debt of $68,000,000, or $33 per head, seems a mere bagatelle. Under the terms of the present charter, this debt cannot be materially increased until the population grows and the need of finding some way of further financing in the meantime without raising the taxes is what led Chicago to seek the advice of other cities which are in the same predicament. The committee of Illinois mayors which is now working on the problem is a unique organization. Officially it has no existence, but practically it is blazing the way for similar organizations which will be started in other states if the Illinois plan proves to be successful. The executives meet from time to time and compare results, but most of the work is done by individuals along lines laid out by the whole body. The investigation has not been under way sufficiently long for any final conclusions to be reached, but enough has already been accomplished to indicate the value of the work. Among the questions which are receiving attention are the limit of bonded indebtedness, the taxing of public service corporations and the financing of municipal utilities.

The shade of Shabbona, the picturesque chief of the Pottawattamie Indians, who played such an important part in the early history of Illinois and Iowa, has put in an appearance in the hearing here of an injunction suit brought by the state of Illinois against a light and power company regarding the company's dam along the route of the proposed waterway. The old chief has been dead many years, but his account of the old days "before the white man came," has found its way into court, as a part of a deposition by D. H. Raymond who lived seventy-three years near the village of Morris, Ill., and who knew the famous Indian. Chief Shabbona spent the last years of his life in Raymond's home, and around his fire related tales of the times when the Mississippi valley states were virgin prairie and game-abounded on the spot where Chicago now stands. He told of the long journeys down the Desplaines and the Illinois rivers. "In going from Lake Michigan to the great Mississippi river," Shabbona's shade related, "we carried our birch canoes around the swift, shallow water of the Desplaines, from the Calumet to a point twenty miles below Morris; there the stream was navigable." More interesting facts about the early days were contained in other depositions figuring in the suit. The principal point at issue is the navigability of the stream, according to the decision of the attorney general of the state, who said that "the state has the right under the powers of eminent domain to control the Desplaines river and to convert it into a highway of commerce, can not be questioned. But before it can proceed, if this river is not navigable in fact, it must take or provide just compensation to the shore owners for their property to be taken or damaged. The dam will not block the waterway, but its value, if condemned, is the real issue of the suit.

lots around the school buildings and to improve the appearance of the city in general. The teachers and city officials who superintended it had their hands full. Many of the children were inspired to labor by promises to have their pictures taken. Newspaper photographers had a strenuous day of it and were unable to make the rounds and snap-shot all the groups. At one school the pupils "struck" and declared the whole business a fake when the photographer failed to materialize. Piles of refuse six to ten feet high testified to the thoroughness of the work. These were burned by the children in the evening. Thousands of children took part in the Arbor day exercises and helped plant trees in various settlement play grounds, in the parks and about the public school buildings. So successful has been the work of cleaning the city that letters have been sent to all the school principals by the mayor, requesting the pupils to devote one hour each day to the task. It is the hope of those interested in the project that the older folks will be shamed by the tireless efforts of the youngsters and at least keep their back yards clean.
